

Game-based Learning Platform - Kahoot

Author: Kerim Somun

THEME

---

Interactive quiz about Human Rights and International Criminal Court

CONTEXT

Kahoot is a free online game-based learning platform. Kahoots are best played in a group setting, for example, a classroom. Players answer the questions on their own devices (smartphones, laptops or computers), while the quiz is displayed on a shared screen to unite the lesson. It creates a 'campfire moment' encouraging players to look up and learn together. Kahoot promotes social learning discussion and pedagogical impact.

GOALS

- Raising awareness and knowledge about Human Rights and International Criminal Court
- Providing the opportunity for students/participants to re-examine own knowledge
- Interactive, whole-class involvement throughout the 45 minutes class
- Insight into details and facts about Human Rights and International Criminal Court
- Promoting social learning discussions and new pedagogical impact

LEARNING OUTCOMES

- Students/participants are able to test their knowledge about Human Rights and International Criminal Court
- Students/participants are able to gain new knowledge and interesting facts about Human Rights and International Criminal Court

MATERIAL & EQUIPMENT NEEDED

Laptop, projector, smartphones, laptops, computers and internet access.

Overview of activities (process)

Duration: 45 minutes

Introduction - 10 minutes:

The activity starts with an introduction about Kahoot platform and how the platform functions. Before starting this activity you can watch with the participants the JustNow animation movie about International Criminal Court or take a look on the Timeline about International Criminal Law and Human Rights - because all the questions made up for both Kahoot quizzes are set-up on the information which each participant can find on both Timelines and the animation movie.

Quiz - 20 minutes:

The approximately time to do both quizzes with the participants is 20 minutes.

Discussion - 10 minutes:

After the quiz, we encourage you to have a brief discussion with the participants about the content of the quizzes asking those following questions:

- What did you learn?
- Did something surprise you during the quizzes?
- What did they find challenging or difficult?

Evaluation and follow up - 5 minutes:

At the end of the activity, you can connect the results of the discussion to the goal of the activity and encourage students/participants to create their own Kahoot quizzes and use the platform as a new learning tool in their workshops, classes or other activities.

SOURCES

All information about the Game-based Learning Platform Kahoot are available on the following website: <https://www.kahoot.com/>

At the end of the document there are two sets of questions available for creation of your own quizzes based on the inputs of the JustNow Toolbox related to Human Rights and International Criminal Court.

You can also create your own quiz with various questions for any other educational purpose.

ASSESSMENT & EVALUATION OPTIONS

The activity is designed to involve all the participants, actively, in its implementation. Some students/participants might be more enthusiastic than others might, but all should take part in the discussions and exercise.

HOMEWORK IDEAS

After implementation of this activity, you can encourage players to create and share their own Kahoot quiz to deepen understanding, mastery and purpose, as well as engage in peer-led discussions.

ONLINE IMPLEMENTATION

This activity plan can be easily transferred to the online education environment. The quiz can be played over various online tools and with the option “share screen” the questions for the quiz can be displayed over a virtual room to all participants, which can play the quiz on their devices. The virtual room can be used for discussion, after explaining the assignments and its core steps.
